TOKENOMICS

Tokenomics plays a pivotal role in the Advantis AI ecosystem, ensuring a fair and sustainable framework for our community. Our token, Advantis (ADVT), is built on the foundation of transparency, value creation, and long-term growth. Let's delve into the key aspects of our tokenomics.

OVERVIEW OF TOKENOMICS

Team and Development: [1%] allocated for team and development purposes

Marketing: [1%] allocated for marketing purposes

Token burn [1%]: A portion of each sell transaction is burned, reducing token supply and potentially increasing value.

Reflections [1% when buying / 2% when selling]: Holders receive passive earnings through reflections triggered by buy and sell transactions.

TOKEN DISTRIBUTION

Advantis AI has a comprehensive tokenomics model to create a thriving ecosystem. Our token serves a dual purpose: enabling enhanced functionality within our products and rewarding our community.

Token Distribution:

Total Supply: [935000000000]

Initial Circulating Supply: [1000000000000]

TOKEN UTILITY AND PURPOSE

Advantis AI Tokens (ADVT) hold significant utility within our ecosystem, providing various benefits to holders and supporting the growth of our platform. Here's a closer look at the token utility and purpose:

Enhanced Functionality: ADVT tokens unlock advanced features and functionalities within our suite of products. By holding ADVT tokens, users gain access to exclusive tools and expanded capabilities in products like the Advantis AI Scanner and Advantis AI Outlook. These additional features empower users with deeper insights, smarter decision-making, and a competitive edge in the crypto market.

Reflections: One of the unique aspects of ADVT tokens is the passive income generated through reflections. Reflections occur automatically on every buy and sell transaction, distributing a percentage of the transaction fee to all holders. This mechanism rewards loyal token holders and encourages long-term participation in the Advantis AI community.

Developer Support: We believe in continuous improvement and innovation. Therefore, a portion of the transaction fees is allocated to our developer fund. These resources enable us to invest in research and development, enhance existing products, and create new solutions. By holding ADVT tokens, you directly contribute to the growth and evolution of our platform.

Token Burn: Advantis AI is committed to creating scarcity and value appreciation for our token holders. To achieve this, a percentage of each sell transaction is allocated to token burning. Token burning reduces the circulating supply of ADVT tokens over time, increasing scarcity and potentially driving up the value of the remaining tokens.

Marketing Initiatives: We are dedicated to spreading awareness about Advantis AI and fostering widespread adoption of our products. A portion of each sell transaction contributes to our marketing fund, enabling us to execute strategic campaigns, partnerships, and community-building initiatives. This allocation helps us reach a broader audience, build trust, and establish Advantis AI as a leading force in the crypto space.

By leveraging the utility and purpose of ADVT tokens, users not only benefit from advanced functionalities and passive income but also actively participate in shaping the future of Advantis AI. Our mission is to provide a robust ecosystem where token holders can engage, learn, grow, and thrive in the dynamic world of decentralized finance.
